COMMENCEMENT AT TEXAS STATE

Welcome to Texas State University's Fall Commencement! In order to ensure your enjoyment and safety while visiting with us, please review the following information.

Live Streaming

For your convenience, the ceremonies will be streamed live on the commencement website at www.txst.edu/commencement. Recordings will be available for viewing at a later time.

Processional and Graduate Recognition

Candidates will seat themselves on the arena floor prior to the ceremony in order by degree level. During Graduate Recognition, candidates will cross in front of the stage from right to left.

Commencement and Graduation

Commencement is a ceremony in which preliminary degree candidates are recognized for their academic achievements. The commencement program reflects the name and degree of each graduate as well as the honors designation based on data available at the time of publication. Therefore, this program should not be considered an official list of graduates.

Guidelines for Candidates and Guests

Commencement is a significant and solemn event that celebrates years of academic achievement. In order to ensure that the ceremony is meaningful for all in attendance, please avoid all unnecessary conversation and movement. Also, please refrain from using air horns or other noisemakers during the calling of student names.

Recessional

At the end of the ceremony, all candidates will recess to Sewell Park. Guests should remain seated until all candidates have recessed. Then, guests are welcome to meet their candidates in the park near entrances 2 and 3. In the case of inclement weather, candidates will not process outside, but will leave their seats after the Platform Party has recessed.

Pride and Traditions

Commencement is an important rite of passage with many time-honored traditions. From the ceremonial mace to the gown worn by graduates, every detail of a commencement ceremony is steeped in pride and tradition. To read more about commencement traditions at Texas State, please visit the commencement website at www.txst.edu/commencement/candidate-information/program/Pride-and-Traditions.html.

TEXAS STATE NEXT Is Now

Texas State University is answering the call and doing its part to help with a major health policy and public health concern. By 2030, the elderly population will be twice what it is today. The needs of the “baby boomer” population will place an overwhelming strain on the healthcare system. The “young old” (66-84 years of age) will number 61 million and the “oldest old” (85 plus years of age) will number 9 million by 2030. These projected numbers equate to a significant need for increased options of long-term care for the aging population, including nursing homes. As this population ages, nursing home administrator jobs will continue to be in high demand due to an increased number of facilities needed to handle the influx of these individuals. The state of Texas is expected to see an exponential increase in the number of residents utilizing nursing homes from 101,075 in 2010 to 309,271 by 2040. Data from Texas Labor Market Information (2021) predicts growth in the need for Medical and Health Services Managers in the state of Texas from 32,316 in 2018 to 39,403 in 2028, an increase of 21.93 percent. The Bureau of Labor Statistics (U.S. Department of Labor, 2020) also expects to see a 17 percent growth in the number of nursing home administrator jobs by 2024.

In an effort to provide a solution to this pressing need, Texas State’s School of Health Administration, housed in the College of Health Professions, has been approved to offer a new Master of Long Term Care Administration degree (MLTCA). Texas State will be the first university in the state to offer a MLTCA degree. Job opportunities for graduates will include nursing home administrators, assistant administrators, executive directors, chief executive officers, and chief operating officers. Further opportunities would include corporate support oversight of multiple facilities, vice president, regional director of operations, and other corporate positions.

Students enrolled in the MLTCA program will complete courses in an array of topics from elder abuse and mistreatment to environmental management and design. The program complies with the National Association of Long Term Care Administrator Boards accreditation requirements and will seek programmatic accreditation. Course instruction is delivered fully online and students earn practicum hours locally, thus accommodating work-life balance issues of a diverse student body. Texas State is preparing to take care of the citizens of Texas and getting ready for what’s NEXT.
