

CONTENTS

Spring 2013

Editor's Note

David Norman 5 No Cowboy is an Island

Nonfiction

James Watson 7 "The only words I know are the Catholic ones": Sacramental Existentialism in Cormac McCarthy's Suttree

Molly McBride Lasco 25 Larry McMurtry and the Paradox of Imperialist Nostalgia

Don Graham 48 A Speculative Note on the Title of Larry McMurtry's First Novel

Steven L. Davis 52 Mining Dobie: Cormac McCarthy's Debt to J. Frank Dobie in The Crossing

Elisa Warford 58 Texas Petrofiction: Regionalism and the Oil Stories of Winifred Sanford

Photography 71 Photography by Ruby Leos

Fiction

Mary Helen Specht 81 The Pilot

Robert Paul Moreira 92 Chiles Rellenos

Paul Ruffin 96 Gentleman in a Dustcoat

Interview

Colin Pope 111 On Publishing & Poetry's Aesthetics: A Conversation with Tomás Q. Morín

Poetry

Jeffrey Alfier 116 Death Valley Interlude:
The Panamint Range

117 Abandoned Quicksilver Mine,
Not on the Death Valley Map

Larry D. Thomas 118 Coyanosa

Deborah Phelps 119 Arboreal

Harmony Button 120 Smoke Girl

Jack Vian 121 On My Father's Farm

Book Reviews

William Huggins 123 Thinking Like a Watershed: Voices from the West edited by Jack Loeffler and Celestia Loeffler

Ileana Cerda 125 Walking the Clouds: An Anthology of Indigenous Science Fiction edited by Grace L. Dillon

Jane Manaster 127 Gunfight at the Eco-Corral: Western Cinema and the Environment by Robin L. Murray and Joseph K. Heumann

Daniel Herman 128 The Only One Living to Tell: The Autobiography of a Yavapai Indian by Mike Burns and edited by Gregory McNamee

Eric Wallenstein 130 Taco USA: How Mexican Food Conquered America by Gustavo Arellano

Clay Reynolds 132 To Hell or the Pecos by Patrick Dearen

Eric Hall 135 Hard to Have Heroes by Buddy Mays

Michael Moorhead 136 The Iguana Tree by Michel Stone

Herb Thompson 138 Hard Twisted by C. Joseph Greaves

140 Faith Bass Darling's Last Garage Sale by Lynda Rutledge

Ken Hada 141 Hazards of Grace by Gary Worth Moody

Contributors 144

CONTRIBUTORS

Jeffrey Alfier has work appearing or forthcoming in Iron Horse Literary Review, Poetry Ireland Review, South Carolina Review, and Tulane Review. His first full-length book of poems, The Wolf Yearling, is forthcoming from Pecan Grove Press. He is founder and co-editor of San Pedro River Review.

Harmony Button has been nominated for a Pushcart Prize and a Best of the Web Award. She received the Larry Levis Prize from the Academy of American Poets and holds an MFA from the University of Utah. Her work has appeared in Colorado Review, BlazeVOX, Fringe, Fiddleback, White Whale Review, and SLEET Magazine. She is currently English Department Chair of the Waterford School in Utah.

Steven L. Davis is the author of Texas Literary Outlaws and J. Frank Dobie: A Liberated Mind. His new book, Dallas 1963, co-written with Bill Minutaglio, will be published by Twelve in the fall of 2013. Davis is a long-time curator at the Wittliff Collections at Texas State University-San Marcos, which holds the literary papers of Cormac McCarthy, Sam Shepard, and many other writers.

Don Graham is the J. Frank Dobie Regents Professor of American and English Literature at the University of Texas at Austin. His most recent book is State of Minds: Texas Culture & Its Discontents. Forthcoming later this spring is his study of an Australian writer: Michael Wilding & the Fiction of Instant Experience: Stories, Novels, and Memoirs, 1963-2012. Graham's next book will be about Texas.

Molly McBride Lasco is an Americanist specializing in revisionist Westerns, Native American literature, masculinity studies, and coming-of-age narratives. Her work has appeared in Southwestern American Literature and Sacred Violence: Cormac McCarthy's Western Novels. She teaches at Lone Star College in Conroe, Texas. In her spare time she is athletic director and activities coordinator for her three sons, ages nine, six, and two.

Ruby Leos has done fine art photography for over fifteen years. Through her work with Alianza of New Mexico and the New Mexico Department of Health, she continues her portrait project showcasing the culture and struggle of HIV/AIDS positive people in Southern New Mexico. To contact or view more of Ruby's work, visit www.soulfirephotos.com.

Robert Paul Moreira is an English Ph.D. candidate at the University of Texas-San Antonio with research interests in alterity and constructed identities in sports fiction, film, and performance. His work has appeared in Bluestem, Aethlon: Journal of Sports Literature, Storyglossia, and elsewhere. He is editor of the forthcoming Arriba Baseball!: A Collection of Latino/a Baseball Fiction. He teaches at the University of Texas-Pan American.

Deborah Phelps is a Professor of English at Sam Houston State University, where she specializes in Victorian literature. She has published poetry in many journals, and in 2001, she won the Small Press Poetry Prize for Deep East. A graduate of Towson University in Baltimore and the University of Delaware, she lives in Huntsville, Texas.

Colin Pope teaches in the English Department at Texas State University. His work has appeared or is forthcoming in Best New Poets, Slate, The New York Quarterly, The Portland Review, and The Los Angeles Review, among others.

Paul Ruffin is a Texas State University System Regents' Professor at Sam Houston State University, where he directs Texas Review Press. He is the author of two novels, four collections of short stories, four books of essays, seven collections of poetry, and editor or co-editor of a dozen other books.

Mary Helen Specht's fiction and nonfiction have appeared in numerous publications, including The New York Times, The Texas Observer, and Night Train, where she won the Richard Yates Short Story Award. A Fulbright Scholar to Nigeria and a Dobie-Paisano Fellow, she teaches creative writing at St. Edward's University in Austin, and can be found at maryhelenspecht.com.

Larry D. Thomas, a longtime SAL contributor, is a member of the Texas Institute of Letters and served as the 2008 Texas Poet Laureate. He has published twenty collections of poetry, most recently Uncle Ernest. His New and Selected Poems was short-listed for the National Book Award. "Coyanosa" is the title poem of a manuscript-in-progress. Thomas lives in Alpine, Texas, with his wife, Lisa, and two Long-haired Chihuahuas, Pecos and Pinyon.

Jack Vian was born in Houston and currently resides at the Mark W. Stiles Unit in Beaumont, Texas. “On My Father’s Farm” is part of an unpublished chapbook he composed while watching his father die from cigarette-induced COPD. His work has recently appeared in or been accepted by Rattle, Colere, Gemini Magazine, Big Muddy, and The Coe Review.

Elisa Warford is a Senior Lecturer in the Engineering Writing Program at the University of Southern California, where she teaches courses in written and oral engineering communication. Her research interests include the rhetoric of science and portrayals of engineering and technology in American literature. She is also a professional technical editor with a Ph.D. in English from the University of Maryland.

James Watson teaches at Baylor University, where he is completing doctoral studies in English. His dissertation describes new routes taken by 20th-century novelists in their attempts to communicate transcendent meaning in the wake of a pervasive loss of faith in language. He has published poetry and fiction, and lives with his wife, five sons, and one-eared cat on a small ranch in central Texas.

